

Are Your IT Projects Progressing Successfully? Are Your IT Projects Focused on Your Business Needs?

Did you know that only 16% of IT projects are completed on time and on budget? The majority of projects either fail to deliver the required functionality or significantly exceed the initial cost estimation impacting company's bottom line. Moreover, applications as well as custom technology solutions once completed and deployed are rarely flexible and adaptable enough to meet new and on-going business requirements!

At Baseline Solutions, we strongly believe that successful completion of IT projects is based on an optimal combination of two core results-oriented disciplines:

- Accurate Business Process Analysis
- Operational Management and Process Technology

Business Process Analysis

Accurately capturing business requirements is the primary key to a successful IT project. Our team of experienced consultants take the time to understand your requirements, and then tailor a complete solution that deliver tangible value to the enterprise. We listen to your ideas, delve into your concerns, and consider every aspect of the problem - from the underlying business processes to the importance of change management to the merits of various technologies. Once understood, we cultivate unique technology solutions that move your business forward and yield a measurable return on investment. By constantly monitoring your requirements throughout the entire design and implementation process, we ensure that the final solution meets your evolving business goals.

Operational Management and Process Technology

With an experienced staff, Baseline Solutions uses a unique process-focused methodology to make sure that our projects, and therefore our clients are successful. The Baseline Solution's Operational Management and Process methodology employs a tested and disciplined approach that leverages the investment our clients have made in technology, streamlining their operations and enabling efficiency. This proven methodology has provided our clients with decreased operational costs, reduced cycle times, and helped drive an increase in revenue.
